The screensaver features a discrete animation of waves that can be viewed from a number of different angles. The frames are updated automatically to the latest reflections, giving the impression of a moving waterfall. There are four levels of effect that can be selected. You can set the slideshow to play in one or in reverse directions. There is a zoom effect, and a menu from which you can set the animation effect to one of 4: no animation, splash, ripple, and the classic ripple/wave. The sound effect can be turned off from the screensaver settings, or the audio track can be set to the background or to the overlay. A panoramic menu is available from which you can adjust the slideshow, animation, direction, and sound track volume. Sunday, June 20, 2011 Almost exactly a year ago, I had a wonderful day of ceramics at Ardea Pottery with a friend of mine. I made some pottery, my friend made pottery, we chatted, ate a light lunch and then I packed up my stuff to go home. It had been a wonderful day and I looked forward to making it all over again with her a year later. Unfortunately I was not able to go to her class, and she is still making pots and selling them from her home studio, but it was fun getting to reconnect with her. P.S. if you go by there, check out the new pottery area. There are great prices and they make great gifts. Thursday, June 17, 2011 I love these three little ceramics in the mason jars I made. I got the mason jars at Michael's for $1.98 a piece and I used porcelain paint that you can find at any craft store for a small amount. I'm not sure what I'm going to make with them, I'm thinking dessert recipes. Monday, June 14, 2011 I made these little daffodils for a friend. These were actually going to be planters, but I needed to make them into something else and I was having a party and thought it would be cute to make them into daffodils. It was actually kind of a pain to make. The daffodils are wrapped in paper and taped together and then painted. They didn't come out as nice as they should have, I think maybe I should have bought a little jar and painted them directly into it. The wire comes in a bag which you then wrap around the stem and leaf with just enough to wrap it but not too much.
